

Date: 08 December 2023

Al Bahrain Jewellers LLC's Stance on Global Conflict and Business Operations

Al Bahrain Jewellers LLC is firmly committed to conducting business with the highest ethical standards and in full compliance with international laws and sanctions. In light of the current global conflicts and geopolitical events, we are acutely aware of our corporate responsibilities. Our thoughts are with all those who have been affected by the ongoing conflict around the world.

During these challenging times, our dedication to maintaining ethical business practices and adhering to international standards has never been more important. We stand committed to upholding these values, which form the core of our corporate ethos.

We wish to unequivocally affirm our unwavering commitment to strict adherence to international standards and principles. In line with this commitment, we clarify that Al Bahrain Jewellers LLC has had no business dealings with any Russian entities, both in the past and at present. Additionally, we currently do not accept any materials that originate from Russia, whether directly or indirectly. This policy decision was proactively implemented well before the publication of the news article, reflecting our dedication to responsible conduct within the global marketplace.

Rest assured, all our actions and business decisions are underpinned by a steadfast commitment to respecting and following the international sanctions, rules, and regulations that govern our industry. We are dedicated to continuously upholding these standards across all aspects of our operations. We appreciate the support and understanding of our clients, partners, and stakeholders as we navigate these complex circumstances.

Sincerely,

Al Bahrain Jewellers LLC

